STUFF

MURD'RING MINISTERS is a gamezine dedicated to the postal play of DIPLOMACY, MACHIAVELLI, and other multi-player type games. MM is published every 4-6 weeks with games utilizing 4 week deadlines. Subscriptions run $5.50/12 issues (at least until the next postal hike goes into effect); Issues purchased in batches less than 12 cost 50¢ each. MM is published by Ron Brown, 1528 El Sereno Pl., Bakersfield, CA 93304. Phone - (805) 834-8409. There are no game openings at present; Standbys are always needed and welcomed!

Well, it's been a long, long time since I've had the time or desire to sit behind the old disk and typer; hell, it's the first time in months I've even been able to see my desktop! There's a lot of stuff to "catch up" on, or try to, so hang on . . .

The letter column this time, the Readers' Rhetorical Replies will be thick with some old letters . . . but I think you will find some interesting reading among them. We'll wrap up our 83AY discussion in this issue. Unless any of you feel motivated to respond by anything you read herein. There should be a small article or two somewhere inside I hope you enjoy. Which reminds me, my "Future Material" file will be pretty much emptied by the publication of this "clearing-house" issue. So how about some of you Mini-Ministers writing something up for these pages. Remember, you earn 2 issues for every typed page of material appearing herein. Extend your sub without touching your pocketbook! Write for MM! Please . . . This issue is not a "double-issue". It will only count as a single issue against your sub credit.

On a somber note, I'm afraid I must inform you of the death of David Mullin. David was the original Austrian player in 1983HX. His father called recently having found MM#72 in his son's car with a note on it from me asking if all was well. So he courteously called to inform me of David's death in an automobile accident. Our deepest sympathies to the Mullin family and to his close friends who receive this zine.

In MM#73, I informed you of Keith Sherwood's new zine, ULTIMATELY COOL. I was fooled by this "obvious" fake since I expect the truly bizarre from Keith. Yess, this was indeed a fake zine! Shadee of Jack Masters! Who dun it? Why, no one but Keith himself! Keith faked his own non-existent zine! I told you I expect nothing but the bizarre from Keith. So what is he doing next? Starting up his own zine (finally!) Keith Sherwood, 8866 Cliff Ridge Ave., S La Jolla, CA 92037 has begun THE INNER LIGHT. Subscriptions are 60¢/issue, sold in increments of the prime numbers ((3)). Game fee is $3.00 with a $5.00 NMR Deposit. Why not send for a sample?

Paul Gardner, PO Box 60, Eugene, OR 97440 has taken his subzine "PERIMETER'S REVENGE" and changed it into an independent zine entitled, NO NEW YORK. His provocative title is matched only by his choice of material -- this looks like it will be a good new zine too! Paul has game openings in Reg. DIP at $2.50 for the gamefee and $2.50 for the NMR Deposit. Most reasonable! Standbys are actively solicited as well as starting players. Write for a sample.

Most of you have probably heard by now that Kathy Byrne has resigned her post as Boardman Number Custodian (DNC) and has cited the fact that ". . . Bruce Linsey has done everything he could not only to discredit me as DNC, but to disrupt this hobby service," as her reason for stepping down. I think Fred Davis is correct in observing that this change may be for the better as the DNC should perhaps be a bit more of a "quiet type" than Kathy. In handling her duties of handing out Boardman Numbers and charting the conclusion of all reg. Dippy games Kathy did a marvelous job; perhaps the most efficient and best job ever! Thanks Kathy for all the work and service on all our behalfs -- we appreciate it!

The new DNC is Bill Quinn, 301 Conroe Drive, Conroe, TX 77301 (409) 856-7607. Bill has been the publisher of EVERYTHING during Kathy's tenure and is now actively seeking a publisher during his reign. Anyone out there interested in taking over the job as publisher of EVERYTHING should write to Bill at the above address.

MORE STUFF

Speaking of EVERYTHING, congratulations to:
Stan Johnson - Winner of 1981IF as Germany
Steve Arnawoodian - Winner of 1981KD as Italy
Don Schiefler - Winner 1982CJ as Austria
Don Swartz - Winner of 1982CZ as Turkey and
Mark Fassio - Winner of 1982HY as Turkey

The above are MM subscribers who have been recorded as winners in the last two EVERYTHINGS. Again, congrats!

Kathy Byrne has been named General Editor of DIPLOMACY WORLD (the Hobby "Flagship" Zine) by Rod Walker in October. Rod will maintain his role as Managing Editor. All articles should be sent to Kathy Byrne, 160-02 43rd St., Flushing, NY 11358). As Rod stated in EREWHON #126, "This is a job simply made to order for a person of Kathy's creativity, energy, and enthusiasm." I'll even have to resubscribe to DW now myself! Rod also states that his remaining role as Managing Editor will be a temporary one. Within the next year, or so, Rod intends to turn DIPLOMACY WORLD over to a new publisher. Anyone who fancies themselves capable of taking over the huge workload that DW represents, should contact Rod at 1273 Crest Dr., Encinitas, CA 92024 and "volunteer". However, the chosen successor must be "OK'd" by Rod, Kathy, and Walt Buchanan, the original publisher.

The last COAT OF ARMS I saw from Woody was in late September and numbered 33-99 as the first 66 issue of a dipzine in one compact form! A massive 40 pager, much of the space within was filled by John Caruso's "FOOT IN MOUTH" subzine and Mike Masser's "STRAGE DOINGS". Also was a letter from Kathy Byrne exposing the evils of Bruce Linsey entitled "The Ethical Bruce Linsey" which Bruce is complaining about. What fun! Has COA folded or is it still going strong? I hope the latter because Woody always has funny stuff to offer!

Another large mailing arrived from Melinda Holley defending Kathy Byrne and condemning Bruce Linsey. This present on-going feud between Linsey and Byrne has reached new heights of unpleasant silliness (though both participants take this thing very seriously indeed!). In her mailing, Melinda charges that Kathy Byrne "has been harassed by 'off-the-record' letters from Bruce Linsey for months". So she reproduced one of them and included it in her mailing. Also was a copy of a circular letter Bruce sent along to many (but I didn't get one) entitled "The Ethical Bruce Linsey Responds - It's My Hobby Too!" which was Bruce's reply to the charges made against him by Kathy (see the COA stuff above). What it all amounts to is Bruce is charging Kathy did something that he can't prove, and that Kathy is charging Bruce did something she can't prove. My advice is try not to get involved and let them both have their fun. One other thing in Melinda's package was some remarks by Brad Wilson that perhaps "we" should strip Linsey of SUPERNOVE (the Novice Packet), boycott the Runestone Poll (because Bruce is running it this year), and for "all decent people to break ties with Linsey". This is a bunch of crap. You don't "strip" someone of a Hobby project that has been impeccably handled for years because that person is feuding with a friend of yours. Who has that authority anyway? All you could do would just to start up another "rival" novice packet. Fun, huh? I hope Brad Wilson is the first to volunteer to produce the replacement for SuperNova. Ha! And as for boycotting the Poll -- that kind of move just hurts us all in the Hobby. . . and just makes Bruce's job of compiling easier! C'mon, everybody get even at Bruce by supporting the Runestone Poll and voting in it this year and make him have to work really hard!

STILL MORE STUFF

This is your last chance to nominate some worthy associate as the winner of the 1984 NIXON AWARD. I should stress that this is a writing contest. If you have someone in mind as "The Biggest Liar of the Year", here's how you enter. Simply tell why, in an essay, you feel your nominee deserves to win the Award. Your essay should be 200 words or less. Best one gets his/her nominee designated as the winner of the NIXON. So far there has been only one nomination turned in. You have until the next issue of MM (late Feb.-early March) when the winner will be announced in MM #76.

Larry Peery, PO Box 8416, San Diego, CA 92102 has just released his latest "Results of the Peeri Poll. This is a very complete analysis of the hobby and its zines. This is a poll similar to the Runestone Poll, but as noted, very much more detailed. Send $2.00 to Larry at the above address and he will send you a copy of Poll's results. It took 68 pages to include them all! If you are really interested in taking a look at all the zines in the North American hobby in a close-up, detailed investigation, you should get a copy of this. Subscriptions to Larry's zine, XENOCOGIC are $12/4 issues - that gets you a year's worth of big, fat, lots-of-reading-type issues. Worth looking into . . .

Napoleonic battles are still going on around these parts (although I don't have time to do as much with them as I'd like). The last battle I was involved in was a "small" battle — which our rules system is really designed for. There were two of us on each side. For the French, Marshal Jacques Pervert (me) and Marshal Stiffhardo Ardoni (and his horse, Lance the Wonder Horse) otherwise known as Dan Kuszynski. Our opponents were General I.M. Rotund (Mike Coburn) and General Ben Dover (Tim Luken). The battle was small with 4 infantry battalions on each side, 2 cavalry regiments, and one battery of horse artillery. The battlefield was a flat plain so in the clear weather the French vividly saw the approach of the British Redcoats and their allies, the Nassau and the Portuguese battalions. The game featured a lot of movement and maneuvering as units jockeyed about for the most advantageous direction of attack. Dan led his Vistula Lancers against Mike's Nassau battalion and staggered them backwards, reeling from many casualties. But the cost was high as the Lancers were so decimated by the Nassauers' musketry they retired from the battlefield. But as Tim's Highland infantry moved ahead to attack, Dan's Gray Hussars swept into and through their flank, scattering them to the wind! One Highland battalion survived by forming square so to protect themselves from the sabres of the Hussars. At once the horse battery moved up to begin pelting it with cannonball fire as the Neachatel Battalion advanced in column of attack against the British square. Soon, the Highlanders were sent fleeing from the terrible fury of the elite Swiss Neachatel. The right flank which had been attacked was now totally pacified. However the left wasn't doing so well. There was no artillery support for this flank and sure enough, that's where the enemy had placed their supporting artillery. When British cavalry drew near, the Paris National Guard and the Swiss 3rd Reg't (1st Battalion) were forced to form square . . . excellent targets for the enemy artillery. The Swiss took large casualties as cannonballs tore through their compacted, squared ranks. The Paris National Guard were obliged to take on a charge by the Scots Greys, which because of their strong anti-cavalry formation, they were able to do quite well, driving off the Greys with heavy losses. They, however, took quite a few casualties themselves and the survivors removed themselves to the relative safety of the rear lines. By this time, both sides had used most of their ammunition and both were bled fairly heavily, so the mutual decision to withdraw came as no surprise. Overall, it was pretty much of a stand-off, although Marshal Stiffhardo Ardoni felt the French had the best of it all in all. There will be another battle before long . . . Ardoni! Pervert! Sharpen your blades!!

LOVE'S LABOUR'S LOST I, 1, 312.

WRAP-UP!!

Well, looks like this gets us to another issue of these things. Please note the next deadline for all games-- March 22, 1984. One final reminder about the NIXON AWARD: the deadline for your nominations is rapidly approaching. Please get your nomination in right away if you want to see your favorite awarded with the "preetigeoue NIXON! The winner will be announced in the next issue of MM, which should be an all-reading issue prior to the March 22 deadline for the next regular games-only issue. Laet chance to dance! So until next time, get those knives out of your hande and into someplace safe . . . like a nice unprotected back!! Bye!-- RB.
